GLITCHH

GLITCHH is a three-piece from Brussels crafting post-internet experimental metal.

Their sound sits between the physical and the digital: heavy guitars, deep fuzzy bass and hybrid drum patterns collide with electronic interference, tekno-driven pulses and internet samples.

GLITCHH embraces today's chaos. Drawing from metal, electronic music and internet culture, they feed on the constant noise and information overload of the digital age.

Built for the stage, GLITCHH pulls the crowd into a trance before erupting into moshpits and rave-like chaos. Immediate, precise and unpredictable, their shows leave no one untouched.

/Finalist of Concours Circuit 2024.
